Contraload is able to take away your hassle and headaches and can supply, wash, deliver and collect pallets and containers to carry your liquids, products and ingredients between your plants and end customers or between your suppliers and your plants. This helps manage your logistics supply chain in a cost effective manner. They also reuse, recycle and remanufacture their products. They are also sustainable and environmentally friendly.

Contraload offer a range of plastic pallets in both 800 mm x 1200 mm and 1200 mm x 1000 mm sizes as well as 1000 litre IBCs (Intermediate Bulk Containers) for dry produce and liquids. About 85% of their movements are on pallets, the other 15% being made up of drums and bins.

Supply chain efficiencies and cost savings are created from Contraload's effective deployment of pooling, a form of resource management that refers to efficiently grouping together and deploying resources (in this case load carriers and transport) for the purposes of maximizing advantage and/or minimizing risk to the users.

Rental and Trip Fee pooling is an established method of reducing capital expenditure on pallets and containers and Contraload are experts.

The use of Contraload Food Grade plastic pallets reduces the risk of wood contamination and gives you a strong sustainable platform to store and move your materials between factories, suppliers and inter company. If you have concerns about contamination in the supply chain in production zones and food manufacturing, Contraload use BRC accredited wash plants to ensure your pallets and containers are fresh, clean and hygienic. If you are considering a change from wooden pallets to a more hygienic load carrier - call us 0121 2701007.

Contraload believes in developing strong relationships with their clients, a policy that has resulted in an extensive client base of over 650 customers and now ship to over 1500 end users connecting 27 countries. Contraload works with their strategic transport partners to deliver and collect products on a regular basis, tracking all movements.

Pallets and containers are washed to ISO22000 standards after every trip unless specifically requested otherwise by the client and are inspected to ensure that they meet Contraload's standards for cleanliness and structural integrity. Contraload partners in different countries also wash Contraload equipment to the highest cleansing standards, complying with HACCP related monitoring of processing equipment, surfaces and water samples.

Andrew Wilson, Managing Director stated, "Contraload has evolved from being a supplier of pooled pallets and containers to a real partner with our customers. We can come to your plant and review all your inbound flows and do a full analysis of where we can help you manage your supply chain and we are flexible, team driven and listen to our customers' needs. It is the people we have in our service team that make the difference; please call to see how we can help you".
